

Hannah Farrell

"To win the Lilly Scholarship has been a dream of mine since I was in the seventh grade," Farrell said. "I have wanted to be a pediatrician since I was in the fourth grade. This will make it become a reality."

Farrell, who is ranked 13th academically in the JCHS senior class, plans to tour Hanover College and Indiana University Southeast in New Albany in the next two weeks to decide where she will begin her pre-med studies.

The daughter of Glenda Farrell of Paris Crossing, Hannah Farrell is the editor-in-chief of the JCHS yearbook, a project she has been involved with since 2005. She is also a member of the JCHS Student Council, National Honor Society and German National Honor Society. Her other activities include Big Brothers Big Sisters, Peers Educating Peers and Fellowship of Christian Students where she serves as vice president.

Ronnie Sullivan

Sullivan said he was "overwhelmed" upon learning he had been named a Lilly Scholar. With tuition and books now paid, the scholarship has lifted a financial burden off his family, he said.

Sullivan plans to attend Wabash College in Crawfordsville to study psychology.

Currently ranked eighth in his class, he is the son of Ronald Sr. and Teresa Sullivan of North Vernon.

During his four years at JCHS, Sullivan has been very active in the marching, pep and symphonic band. He has been named drum major, section leader and most valuable marcher.

Sullivan is a member of the JCHS Spanish Club, Math and Science Academic teams and National Honor Society.

In addition, he has been involved in a variety of activities with the Jennings County Players and Park Theatre, including a lead role as the drummer for the Crickets in the band in the recent production of "Buddy: The Buddy Holly Story."
